(Name and Rank of Accused)

a. You may petition the United States Court of Military Appeals with respect to any matter of law within sixty (60) days from the time you receive the decision of the United States Army Court of Military Review or the envelope containing the decision was postmarked, whichever is earlier.

b. In connection with the preparation of the petition (the necessary forms are attached for your use) and representation before the United States Court of Military Appeals, you have the right either to have a civilian lawyer provided at no expense to the United States, a detailed military lawyer, or both a civilian lawyer and detailed military lawyer.

c. If you do not desire to petition the United States Court of Military Appeals, action will be taken to finalize your conviction and the sentence within sixty (60) days from the time you receive the decision of the United States Army Court of Military Review or the envelope containing the decision is postmarked, whichever is earlier. Should you wish to finalize the findings of guilty as affirmed by the United States Army Court of Military Review before such time, you may submit a "Request for Final Action," DA Form 4919-R.

d. To assist you in making your determination of whether to petition the United States Court of Military Appeals or whether to submit a "Request for Final Action", you may contact your appellate defense counsel who represented you before the United States Court of Military Review. If you have difficulty contacting your appellate defense counsel, you may get help by calling the Army Defense Appellate Division collect at (202) 756-2277 or by contacting the Army Trial Defense Service office located at:
